★ I.O.H. - QUALITY SYSTEMS FOR A QUALITY SERVICE

ISO9001/2000

I.O.H. is accredited by SGS to ISO9001/2000 to provide

"Provision of Health promotion, health surveillance, health screening, sickness and absence management, physiotherapy, psychological support, rehabilitation, health and safety consultancy, ergonomics consultancy service and occupational health training services, consultant advice on medico-legal and pension issues to client specification."

Compliance with a quality system ensures that both professional and managerial systems are compliant and consistently applied across all clients sites while internal policy and procedure development groups ensure continued compliance and continuous improvement. I.O.H. staff have been trained in ISO9001/2000 internal auditing and carry out an annual audit programme to ensure compliance. I.O.H. policy documentation is made available to all staff on the organisation's web site where access to the latest approved documentation is ensured. Professional standards have been audited by the Health and Safety Executive and found to be fully compliant with their expectations for good occupational health services.

I.O.H. staff can assist with the clients accreditation process, in particular OHSAS18000 2007 the Internationally recognised Standard which "specifies requirements for an Occupational Health & Safety (OH&S) management system, to enable an organisation to control its OH&S risks and improve performance."

Clients can therefore appoint I.O.H. to deliver their occupational health service with confidence in the knowledge that the service provided will stand scrutiny and support the clients own quality, ISO14000 and OHSAS18000 standards.
